The Etchu Toyama Sachi no Kowake

Have a bit of Toyama's happiness to share!

In Toyama, as a present for wedding ceremonies, it is customary to share an artisanal sea bream fish cake among neighbors and friends, each person taking a piece representing the gratitude for such a happy occasion. The tradition of sharing gifts to show consideration for others runs deep here; we treat other people's happiness like our own. Through these time-honored traditions, people continue to be linked by invisible threads of joy.

The Etchu Toyama Sachi no Kowake brings you traditional offerings from Toyama's mountains and sea; each product represents the skill and passion of our farmers and food professionals. This set is brought to you in the shape and spirit of our gift-giving custom, so that those who give and receive it can share in the traditions and flavors of Toyama.
